No one is perfect -- especially YOU! Learn step-by-step tips, tools and solutions to accept life's roadblocks and detours, roll with the punches, and keep a positive attitude throughout all of life's trials and tribulations ... just as Forrest Gump's mother taught him to say, "stupid is as stupid does." By combining a positive attitude with determination and perseverance, you will overcome adversity, turn obstacles into opportunities, and most importantly -- Achieve the Success You Deserve!

Front line employees, sales professionals, managers and especially executives all need to improve their ability handle hard times. If you've ever been knocked down, this topic will teach you how to bounce back up on your feet ... and get the job done. If you or your organization never make mistakes, then this topic is NOT for you ... Stupid is as Stupid Does!

Testimonials

"When faced with the challenge of introducing the corporate goals and new strategic direction for our company of 300 employees at the annual meeting, we were so happy we hired Steve Weber as Forrest Gump. Not only was his presentation entertaining, but he did it in a way that was extremely effective. Most importantly, we used Steve's talent to get our message across, and it is a meeting to this day that employees refer back to when we discuss our corporate objectives.

"I would highly recommend Steve for any organization that has an important idea or message to communicate, in a way that will always be remembered."

– Mark Ferrari, President, OneWorkPlace, San Jose, CA
